Healing Art Constellations bring our attention to the past, so we can walk more fully into the present.

Have you noticed patterns in your life that slow you down, bring on a negative attitude, even depression and anxiety, or challenge you to look more deeply?

These patterns are where we begin to unwind the behaviors and reactions we have absorbed, often unconsciously, from our past and our ancestors. In the group, we enter a field of knowing in which participants represent aspects of the pattern we wish to release from our life. We are given an advantage to observe the dynamics that make up this pattern and play out between the people involved. Secrets are revealed, relationships are understood and we gain clarity and compassion about our ancestral origins.

It is a remarkable, subtle and liberating process. Change happens. Growth follows. It is inevitable when the source of our limitations are embodied.

"Kate is a unique facilitator, who combines her skills as a Family constellation facilitator with her creative talents as an Artist. She is empathic and finds the root cause of an issue gently and intuitively, then guides you to an unexpected insight. I trust her and feel safe to share myself with her." Wendy Lund, Healing Partnership

"Today my mom called and said that she slept really well last night and felt like a million bucks this morning:) ... She said it felt like an opening had happened for her with this problem." After a constellation for her 93 year old mom, Esperanza.
